

Máté Cup and Straw

---

The best way to drink máté, a tea made from South American holly leaves, is through this straw: a bombilla. A filter in the straw keeps you from sucking up the leaves.

Anchovies only yawn at mealtime

Watch as these small silvery fish pass in their school, and you'll catch some "yawning." What you see is how they eat. As anchovies swim, they open wide, straining tiny plant and animal plankton from the water.

Clean-delivery kit

A bar of soap. A clean plastic sheet to slip under the mother's hips. A razor to cut the cord. String to tie it. And a 10-step diagram to guide the midwife. In rural Nepal, where 90% of deliveries take place at home, this box saves lives.
